

B2-3: TALL JARS WITH RIPPLED OR CORRUGATED SHOULDER

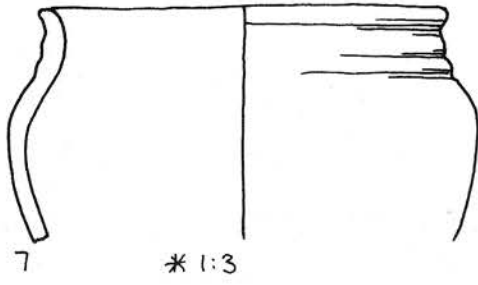

1 Colchester Cemetery 1946, grave 1.	-B	○
2 Kelvedon [1496], [1498].	HM-S	●
3 Braintree, 1903 [1095] =AB 197.	1B	●
4 Billericay [792] =AB 165.	-B	●
5 Heybridge [1091] =AB 195.	HM-B	●
6 Asheldham [791].	-B	●
7 Crayford, fig.7 no.6.	-S	△
8 Aylesford, 'Family-Circle B' [751] =AB 58.	HM(2B)	●
[1366] =AB 74.	HM-B	△
9 Swarling grave 4 [1444] =AB 6, + iron brooch.	HM1B+	●
grave 17 [1412] =AB 33.	HM1B	●
10 presumed Canterbury [86].	HM-	●
11 Sturry Hill [103].	HM-B	●
12 Birchington, Minnis Bay shaft 11 [1378] + brooch	HM1S+	●
shaft 30 [1319] + brooch.	2S+	●
13 Deal [818].	-B	△
14 London, Fetter Lane [776].	HM-B	△
15 Wheathampstead, Wheeler's no.8.	-S	●
16 Prae Wood, group B no.44, LIII.	AD5-40/45	●
17 Puddlehill, cremation 1, no.2, + brooch.	1B+	●
18 Luton, Roslyn Crescent, cremation 2, + brooch.	1B+	○
19 Cambridge, Stourbridge Common [918].	HM-	∅
20 Harrold, pit, nos.103, 105.	1S	△

Notes

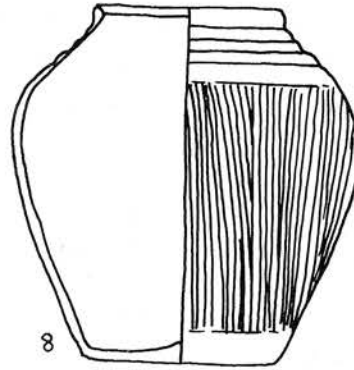

A common form in Kent, where everted rims were not as popular as the more upright forms, as here. Some of the unstratified contexts such as Braughing and Wheathampstead are probably 1st century BC; perhaps also Loose, where the fabric is not grog. Cf. notes to B2-1; the same applies here. It is typologically an early form, and the single Sheepen example is out of place in its late context. Its fabric is native and it may be residual, although the Langenhoe rim seems also to be a late example. The Teston and Detling pots are here because they are rims only, and there is no evidence of the whole profile.

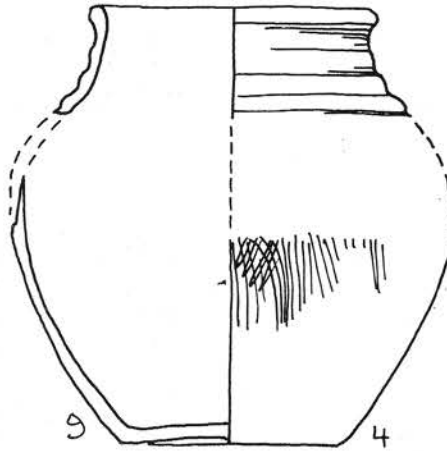

* 1:3

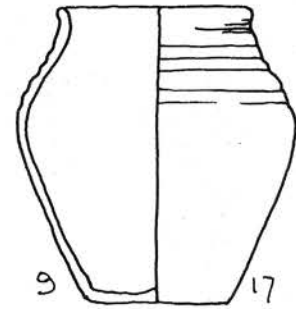

[1366]

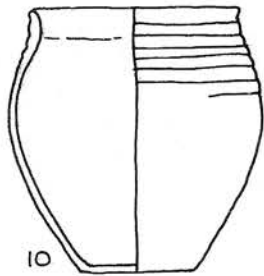

[751]

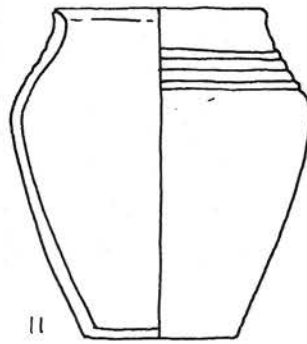

9 4

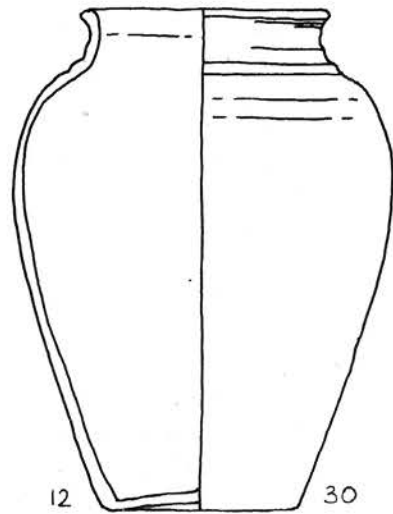

9 17

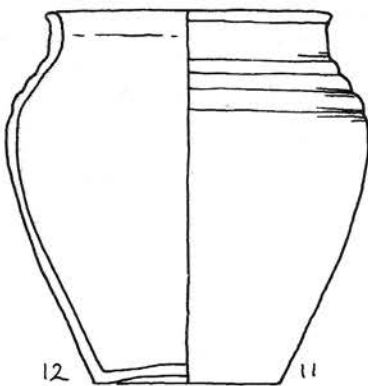

10

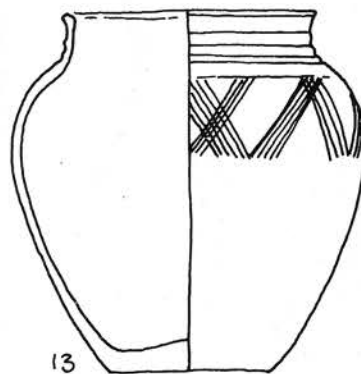

11

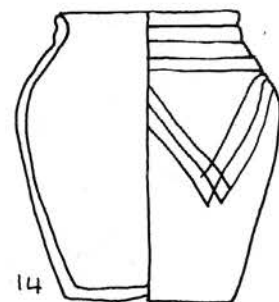

12 30

12 11

13

14

